A 79 year old lady was encouraged by her daughter to join a series of workshops entitled 'Celebratory Collage', in the hope that she would re-ignite her love of being creative and also have a break from being in the house doing chores.

As the weeks progressed, the learner became increasingly confident, chatting to the group and demonstrating many hidden talents, particularly her gardening knowledge and her previous participation as a soprano in the local choir. Her self-deprecating humour also entertained the group and brought individuals together.

This learner admitted that she hadn't done any art since leaving school but embraced each new project with enthusiasm and was keen to complete each piece in her own time.

If the learner would like to add any additional information, comments or feedback about the impact that the course had on them, please use the section below:

At the end of the last session, a handwritten note was handed to the tutor.

After the first week, when I entered in trepidation, I have really looked forward to coming to the group and chatting and doing something new in such good company.

You have been very inspiring and I wish you continuing good health and happiness.

Thank you for completing this Learner Impact Form. If you would prefer to submit an audio recording or video, please contact adult.learning@hants.gov.uk.
