

Right Wing

FACTSHEET

The greatest risk comes from Lone Actors who hold Right Wing views. Intelligence development around potential lone actors is key to understanding this risk.

Extreme Right Wing (XRW)

BELIEFS

Neo-Nazi
Anti-Semitic
Fiercely Nationalistic
White Supremacist
Advocate violence against foreigners
Anti-Communist
Homophobic
Holocaust denial
Anti-Immigration
Anti-Islamic

Far Right

BELIEFS

Oppose immigration
Nationalistic
Oppose globalisation
Anti-Left Wing
Many are anti-Semitic.
Many are anti-Islam

TACTICS

- Organise demonstrations against immigration/child grooming gangs.
- Sticking of street furniture
- Arrange concerts/gigs
- Use of extreme violence at protests
- Will participate in violence against individuals and damage property
- Training camps

TACTICS

- Organise marches against immigration, building of new Mosques, child grooming gangs
- Oppose Left Wing marches
- Sticking of street furniture
- Handing out leaflets
- Will participate in violence at protests

The Right Wing and the South East

There has been very little Right Wing activity in the South East region over the last 6 months. There have been no large demonstrations and while many groups maintain a strong presence and following on social media, this has not manifested itself on the streets at demonstrations.

A number of individuals from the South East travel out of the region to attend demonstrations in other parts of the UK.

There are a number of South East specific groups, including EDL branches, the South East Alliance and the Pie and Mash Squad. However, many of these groups lack distinct leadership and organisation which makes organising large scale marches difficult.

NS131 (AKA National Action) were involved in a banner drop over the M4 in the South East area in August 2017. There have been no further indications that the group have support in this area.

Groups of note - XRW

- National Action (Proscribed group) Aka Scottish Dawn; NS131
- Combat 18
- National Front
- Volksfront
- Polish Hooligans (literally translated from Polish as Hooligans Poland)
- Sigurd/Legion Mac
- Blood & Honour
- Racial Volunteer Force
- White Pride Worldwide
- British Movement

Groups of note – Far Right

- English Defence League (EDL)
- Britain First
- Infidels groups (NE Infidels and NW Infidels)
- South East Alliance
- Pie and Mash Squad
- PEGIDA
- Scottish Defence League
- Football Lads Alliance (Unclear at this time if the group are Right Wing or just some members)

National Action – Proscription

National Action were proscribed by the UK government in December 2016. This means that showing support for the group or belonging to the group is equivalent to showing support for Daesh.

NS131 and Scottish Dawn have also been proscribed as alternative names for National Action.

SCOTTISH DAWN
scottishdawn.com

The Right and Stickers

A number of Extreme and Far Right Wing stickers have been put on street furniture across the South East Region. In the majority of cases these are freely available online for people to order if they support the causes. Most of these stickers have been racist or anti-immigration in nature.

