

John Muir

Date of birth: 21st April 1838

Date of death: 24th December 1914

John Muir is significant because he encouraged people to look after nature and to enjoy the outdoors. John Muir's work led to the creation of the National Parks in America. These are protected areas of natural beauty. The work that he did has also led to national parks being established in Scotland.

Interesting Fact: In 1900 the President of the United States, President Roosevelt, asked to spend time with John Muir. They went camping in Yosemite. They camped in the wild country and when they woke up the next morning they were covered in a light dusting of snow!

visit twinkl.scot

John Muir

Date of birth: 21st April 1838

Date of death: 24th December 1914

John Muir is significant because he encouraged people to look after nature and to enjoy the outdoors. John Muir's work led to the creation of the National Parks in America. These are protected areas of natural beauty. The work that he did has also led to national parks being established in Scotland.

Interesting Fact: In 1900 the President of the United States, President Roosevelt, asked to spend time with John Muir. They went camping in Yosemite. They camped in the wild country and when they woke up the next morning they were covered in a light dusting of snow!

visit twinkl.scot

